

Livestock Ranch Hand

Emily Garcia

Professional summary

Hardworking and dependable Livestock Ranch Hand with experience in managing cattle, sheep, and goats. Adept at feeding, watering, and overseeing daily livestock operations, with a focus on animal health and maintaining proper fencing. Skilled in maintaining equipment, managing pastureland, and ensuring compliance with animal welfare regulations.

Experience

Livestock Ranch Hand

March 2021 - Now

Colorado Cattle Company / United States, Denver, CO

- Oversee daily care and feeding of 150 cattle and 50 sheep, ensuring proper nutrition and health care.
- Assist with the breeding, calving, and weaning process, providing hands-on support for animal health and safety.
- Maintain pastureland, ensuring proper rotation and weed management to optimize grazing conditions.
- Operate and maintain ranch equipment, including tractors, trailers, and feed mixers.
- Provide training to new workers on safe livestock handling techniques and equipment operation.

Ranch Hand

June 2017 - February 2021

Red River Ranch / United States, Denver, CO

- Assisted with daily care and management of a variety of livestock, including cattle, horses, and goats.
- Managed feeding, watering, and administering medications to animals under supervision of ranch managers.
- Assisted with transportation of livestock for market and processing.
- Ensured that livestock enclosures and fencing were in good working order and safe for the animals.

(303) 454-4823

emily.garcia@gmail.com

United States, Denver, CO

Education

Certificate in Animal Science

2013 - 2017

Colorado State University

United States, Fort Collins, CO

First Aid & CPR Certification

American Heart Association

Certification Date: January 2023

Livestock Handling and Safety Certification

National Cattlemen's Beef Association

Certification Date: June 2020

Skills

Livestock management and welfare

Animal health and nutrition

Equipment operation (tractors, feeders, and trailers)

Fencing and land management

Team leadership and communication skills

Familiarity with animal health regulations and safety standards