COVER LETTER

Dear Dr. Johnson,

I am writing to express my interest in the Adjunct Professor position in the Department of English at Harvard University, as advertised on your website. With my Ph.D. in English Literature from the University of California, Berkeley, and a passion for teaching, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to your department's academic excellence and inspire the next generation of students.

Throughout my 6 years of teaching experience at UC Berkeley, as well as at local community colleges, I have developed a deep commitment to fostering an engaging and inclusive learning environment.

My expertise in 19th-century British literature, along with my ability to communicate complex ideas clearly and effectively, allows me to connect with students of varying academic backgrounds.

In addition to my teaching experience, I have maintained an active involvement in literary research and have published several articles in peer-reviewed journals, which enables me to integrate current trends and scholarship into my teaching.

I am eager to contribute to your department's commitment to providing high-quality education and engaging students in meaningful academic exploration. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my background, skills, and experiences align with the needs of your department. Please find my resume and references attached for your review.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the possibility of discussing how I can contribute to the continued success of your academic programs.

Sincerely,

Charles Watson
