LLOYD BROWN

Community College Adjunct Professor

(555) 654-3210
lloydbrown@gmail.com
Denver, CO

PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Passionate educator with a Master's degree in History and a deep interest in fostering a dynamic learning environment. Seeking an adjunct professor position at Denver Community College to help students engage with historical concepts and critical thinking skills.

EDUCATION

Master of Arts in History

University of Denver, CO

Graduation Date: May 2025

Bachelor of Arts in History

University of Denver, CO

Graduation Date: May 2022

SKILLS

- History curriculum development — Expert
- Strong public speaking and presentation skills — Expert
- Classroom engagement and management — Expert
- Research and writing support — Expert
- Digital tools for education (Google Classroom, Microsoft Teams) — Expert
- Mentoring and academic advising — Expert

COURSES

Certified History Teacher

Colorado State, 2025

EXPERIENCE

2024 - Now

History Instructor (Part-Time)
Denver Community College / CO

- Develop and deliver lectures for History 101 and World History courses.
- Design course materials and assignments that encouraged critical thinking and research skills.
- Hold office hours for one-on-one student support and provided academic advising.

2022 - 2024

Graduate Teaching Assistant, History
University of Denver / CO

- Assisted the professor with grading papers, exams, and projects for undergraduate students.
- Led weekly discussion sections, where students analyzed historical texts and participated in debates.
- Supported course logistics and facilitated communication between students and faculty.

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

2023 - Now

Volunteer History Tutor
Denver Public Library, CO

- Provided free tutoring services to high school students preparing for history exams.
- Developed a study group for students interested in expanding their knowledge of American History.
- Assisted in organizing community events to promote historical education.